

VINCENT CARRET

Visiting Researcher, Duke University
Ph.D. in Economics, University of Lyon
Phone: +1 (919) 214-2765

Email: vincent.carret@duke.edu

Institutional webpage: <http://triangle.ens-lyon.fr/spip.php?article8793>

CURRENT POSITION

Duke University (2021-2022) – Visiting Scholar / Archivist
Center for the History of Political Economy and Rubenstein Library.

EDUCATION

Université Lumière Lyon 2 (2019-2022) – PhD, Economics
Defended May 23, 2022

Dissertation: “Macroeconomics and the rise of mathematical thinking: solutions and conflicts in early economic models (1930s-1950s).”

Université Lumière Lyon 2 (2018-2019) – Master’s degree

Major: Theories and history of economics in society.

Master’s thesis: “Birth and Diffusion of Stability Analysis.”

École Normale Supérieure (ENS) of Lyon (2017-2018) – Master’s degree

Major: History of political thought. ENS is a highly selective, top tier higher education institution.

Master’s thesis: “Jacques Rueff: Birth of a Neoliberalism.”

Institut d’Études Politiques (IEP) of Lyon (2014-2018) – Diplôme (equivalent Bachelor + Master)

IEP is a liberal arts school delivering its own “diplôme” in five years, equivalent to a Master’s degree, with a competitive, national examination entry, in the top tier of French higher education.

Master’s thesis: “Ecuador. Revolution from Political Agenda to Institutionalization: What Possibilities of Political Change?”

PUBLICATIONS

Peer-Reviewed Journals:

Assous, Michaël, and Vincent Carret. 2022 “Moving Dynamics Beyond Business Cycles: Jan Tinbergen’s First Macrodynamical Model (1934-1936)” The European Journal of the History of Economic Thought. Accepted.

Carret, Vincent. 2022 “Rupture and continuity in the original divide between microdynamics and macrodynamics” The European Journal of the History of Economic Thought. Accepted.

Assous, Michaël, and Vincent Carret. 2022 “The importance of multiple equilibria for economic policy in Jan Tinbergen’s early works” The European Journal of the History of Economic Thought. Vol. 29 (3): 455–79.

Carret, Vincent. 2021 “Fluctuations and growth in Ragnar Frisch’s rocking horse model” Journal of the History of Economic Thought. Forthcoming.

Assous, Michaël, Olivier Bruno, Vincent Carret, and Muriel Dal-Pont Legrand. 2021. “Expectations and full employment. Hansen, Samuelson and Lange.” Revue d’Économie Politique. Vol. 132 (3): 511–30.

Assous, Michaël, and Vincent Carret. 2020 “(In)stability at the Cowles Commission (1939–1948).” The European Journal of the History of Economic Thought. Vol. 27 (4): 582–605.

Book:

Assous, Michaël, and Vincent Carret. 2022. Modeling Economic Instability - A History of Early Macroeconomics. Cham: Springer. Companion website: <https://economic-instability.com/>.

Other Publications:

Carret, Vincent. 2022 “A Comment on Ginoux and Jovanovic, ‘The Rocking Horse Model Does Rock.’” History of Economic Ideas. Forthcoming.

Carret, Vincent, and Michaël Assous. “Econometrics at Harvard.” Chapter to be published in the Palgrave Companion to Harvard Economics, ed. by R. Cord. October 30, 2021.

Carret, Vincent. “Review of ‘Jan Tinbergen (1903-1994) and the Rise of Economic Expertise’ by Erwin Dekker” Journal of the History of Economic Thought. Forthcoming.

Pre-Prints and Working Papers

Michaël Assous, Vincent Carret. “Jan Tinbergen and J. G. Koopmans on Multiple Equilibria and Coordination Failures.” Working Paper. HAL, August 17, 2022.

Carret, Vincent. “Debt Diplomacy in the 1920s: the Case of the French and Hellenic War Debts”

Carret, Vincent. “Understanding the bitterness of Wassily Leontief: Intention and reception of input-output techniques, 1940s-1950s.” Working Paper. HAL, March 9, 2022.

Assous, Michaël, and Vincent Carret. “Relaxation Oscillations in the Early Development of Econometrics: Coming (Almost) Full Circle (1929-1951).” Working Paper. HAL, April 23, 2021.

CONFERENCE AND SEMINAR PRESENTATIONS

2022

HES Annual Conference

“Why was Leontief so grumpy?”

IHS Graduate Conference

“Debt diplomacy in the 1920s: the case of the French and Hellenic war debts”

HOPE Center Lunch Seminar, Duke University

“Why was Leontief so grumpy?”

2021:

H2M Seminar, Paris I University

“Rupture and continuity in the original divide between micro-dynamics and macro-dynamics”

Young Scholar Seminar at the ESHET Conference in Sofia, Bulgaria

“Rupture and continuity in the original divide between micro-dynamics and macro-dynamics”

STOREP Conference

“Rupture and continuity in the original divide between micro-dynamics and macro-dynamics”

HOPE Center Lunch Seminar, Duke University

“Econometrics at Harvard”

Common seminar GREDEG - TRIANGLE

“The hidden side of Jan Tinbergen’s approach to economic policy (1934-1944)”

HOPE Center Workshop Seminar, Duke University

“The hidden side of Jan Tinbergen’s approach to economic policy (1934-1944)”

Workshop of the Doctoral School of Economics in Lyon

“Fluctuations and growth in Ragnar Frisch's rocking horse model”

2020:

Workshop of PhD students in economics at Triangle

“Reading macrodynamic models with new tools”

2019:

Organization of a seminar on the Cowles Commission at the Maison des Sciences de l’Homme in Lyon, France, December 2

Macroeconomics: Dynamic Histories - When Statics is no Longer Enough, Workshop held in Colmar, France

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Monetary macroeconomics (undergraduate).

Interactive models used in class are available at <http://vincentcarret.com/teaching-models>

GRANTS AND AWARDS

Duke University (2021-2022): Two-semester grant extended to four semesters

University of Lyon (2019-2022): Three-year doctoral fellowship

Young Scholar Seminar Award (2021): Sofia Conference of the ESHET

LANGUAGES

English (fluent), French (native speaker)

COMPUTATIONAL SKILLS

Python, R, JavaScript, HTML/CSS. See <https://github.com/vcarret>